

Turning Surplus Inventory Into Community Impact

10 Years of Connecting Rescued Food and Supplies to Pets and Families in Need

The Crisis We Solve Together

Every year, thousands of pounds of high-quality pet food and supplies go unused and sent to the landfill. We redirect it to pets and families who need it most.

What began a decade ago as a small, local effort to address pet food insecurity has blossomed into a massive regional operation. While demand continues to outpace available resources, our mission remains clear: ease shelter strain, fund medical grants, keep pets in their loving homes, and support people in the communities we serve.

Operating out of a 250,000 sq. ft. warehouse with full-trucking capabilities, we serve as the critical link between corporate surplus and pets or families in need across the Great Lakes states. A passionate volunteer-led "Pack" is the heart of our operation.

"We are able to help more animals because of Rescue Pack. We don't lose valuable donations to food costs—those funds go to medical needs instead. We never want to ask our foster parents to supply food or litter, and Rescue Pack makes that possible."

When Product Can't Go to Retail: Partnership Made Easy

Many companies regularly encounter inventory that cannot be sold through traditional retail channels but still has full usable life. Common causes include packaging changes, overproduction, returns, short-dated inventory, discontinued SKUs, and retailer resets. Standard disposal methods are expensive, labor intensive, and increasingly scrutinized under ESG and sustainability reporting. This is where we can step in to help.

We don't just take donations; we manage the entire lifecycle of your surplus to protect your brand and maximize your community ROI. We provide a seamless, end-to-end experience for our partners that is built for corporate volume:

Zero-Cost Logistics: We schedule and pay for trucking

Full Transparency: We track products from receipt through distribution

Verified Compliance: We qualify all participating 501(c)(3) organizations to ensure integrity

Brand Protection: We distribute goods directly to vetted rescues, shelters and community partners

IRS-Compliant Donation Documentation: We provide fair market value receipts to maximize your tax benefits

Supporting Both Ends of the Leash

At Rescue Pack, we believe in supporting the entire "Pack." While pet welfare is our core focus, we leverage our infrastructure and trusted network to distribute essential household and human products to homeless individuals, veterans and domestic violence shelters. Partnering with us means driving holistic positive change across the communities where your employees and customers live.
